Any individual or committee that receives a single contribution (including a loan) from a contributor in an amount over $5,000 must electronically report the contribution to the MEC within 48 hours of receipt. This contribution must also be included in the committee's next filed report.

- TIMELY FILING: Deadlines are set by state law. If a deadline would fall on a weekend or official holiday, it is extended to the next business day (unless the report/notice would be due less than eight days before an election, in which case there are no extensions). Late filed reports are assessed a daily late fee.
- MANDATORY V. CONDITIONAL REPORTS: Quarterly reports are mandatory for all committees. Those involved in an election cycle may need to file election-specific reports if certain conditions are met.
- TIME PERIOD COVERED: Campaign finance reports disclose activity from the day after the closing date of a committee's last filed full disclosure report through the closing date for the report, as set by state law.
